The following Sunday morning, Father Talbot left for Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., where he made his annual retreat.

Louis F. Mathai, a Freshman of Loyola College, will be married tomorrow, November 22, to Miss Elizabeth Esworthy. The marriage ceremony will take place in the afternoon at St. Elizabeth's Church, Highlandtown. Both the bride and the groom are graduates of Patterson Park High.

Frank Janowiak, ex '48, left recently to join the order of St. Francis at Lake Forest, Illinois. A farewell party was given in his honor by Mr. and Mrs. William Healy at their home on Sunday, November 9.

Donald Coulter, a Sophomore of Loyola College, won a free bid to the Junior Prom, held on November 7, by submitting the winning name for the Sodality paper, "Vision." The contest, conducted by the Junior Sodality, was open to all students of the college.

Edward Kaltenbach, '42, will be married to Miss Joan Anderson on November 22. Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S.J., will officiate at the ceremony, to be held at Immaculate Conception Church at Towson.

An extra feature on the evening's program will be a half-hour short on The Making of a Cigarette, donated by the Chesterfield Company.

Scrooge, an adaptation of Dickens' beloved Christmas Carol will be presented during the Christmas holidays, Sunday, December 28. A dance will follow the movie.

At least five more movies and dances are to be held at Evergreen during the remainder of the scholastic year. Free movies are also being considered. Several contacts have been made and announcements will be made in the next issue.

Premiere Of "Sound of Hunting" Begins Monday At St. Ignatius'

A SOUND OF HUNTING—The five gentlemen in the picture above are deeply impressed by the words of bespectacled Bob Nayden. The students, all of whom are characters in the new show, "A Sound Of Hunting," are John McWilliams, Bob Nayden, Emerson Clarke, Dick Coleman and Bob Custer.

Baltimore's premiere performance of A Sound of Hunting will be staged next Monday at 8:30 p.m. in St. Ignatius' Auditorium, Calvert and Monument Streets. The play will be presented for three days, November 24, 25, 26.

Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S.J., director of the production has announced that the play will be held in honor of the Very Reverend Francis X. Talbot, S.J., newly-appointed Rector of Loyola College. The drama will constitute the first major presentation of the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society during the 1947-48 season.

Author Well-Known

Sound of Hunting was written by Harry Brown, who was also the author of A Walk in the Sun, famous Broadway production which was recently made into a successful movie. During the war the former played on Broadway, and went on tour following its stand there.

The success of the show depends upon the interesting, fast-moving dialogue. It portrays the reaction of a patrol of American troops to the loss of a comrade in battle. The production is in three acts, and requires an all male cast. Critics lauded the presentation in New York as one of the outstanding dramatic performances of the year.

Well Advertised

William Dempsey, publicity manager of the production, said that all Baltimore papers had received notification of the play, and that other steps had been taken to insure fine attendance at the three performances. Edward Clarke, business manager, urged that all students purchase their tickets in the cafeteria if possible. Tickets are payable at the door.

Each student has received two tickets for which he is responsible. Sponsor's tickets and reserved seats are three dollars per couple, and general admission tickets are one dollar per person.

Tea Dance To Be Held At ND

First in a series of exchange tea dances to be sponsored alternately by Notre Dame College and Loyola will be held at 4 p.m. today in the Forier Lounge at NDM.

Admittance to the dance is open to all members of the student body. No tickets are necessary. Refreshments will be served.

Initiative for the affairs came from Loyola's Student Council in cooperation with the Student Government of Notre Dame. Today's affair is under the direction of Miss Jean Reynolds, Chairman of NDM's Social Activities Committee.

Purpose of the series is to promote social activity between local Catholic Colleges. Plans are being made to contact the Newman Club of Johns Hopkins and other Catholic local organizations to secure their participation in the project.

Renowned English Jesuit To Speak Here Next Week

Rev. Vincent C. Watson, S.J., of the English Province, who is now visiting in America, will give three lectures to the students in the forepart of Thanksgiving week. On Monday, November 24, Fr. Watson will address the senior class at 9:40 a.m., in the Library. His subject will be: Some Problems of Britain Today. On Tuesday afternoon, in room 200, he will speak to the Loyola College chapter of the International Relations Club on the topic: Catholic Attitude to the U. N. Fr. Watson's closing talk is scheduled for Wednesday at 2:15 p.m., when the Bellarmine Debating Society will hear him discuss: Education in Britain Today.

Fr. Watson was Senior Classical Master for ten years at Stonyhurst College, the renowned Jesuit institution of England. As a boy, he had studied at Stonyhurst for six years, after finishing one year at Georgetown Prep, in 1903. It was at Stonyhurst, too, that Fr. Watson was ordained to the Priesthood. As Senior Classical Master at his Alma Mater, it was Fr. Watson's duty to prepare students for Open Classical Scholarships at Oxford and Cambridge and for the Classical Honors Course at Oxford. He held this same office in the Jesuit College in Glasgow from 1931 through 1933, and again at Beaumont College, Windsor, from 1933 through 1941. At Bournemouth, well known as an English watering place, where Fr. Watson established his headquarters for the next three years, he was the Catholic Representative on the Executive Board of the Bournemouth Union of Christian Thought and Action, an interdenominational organization for restoring Christian principles to Public Life.

President's Inauguration To Be Held Next Month

The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., will be officially installed as President of Loyola College in ceremonies to be held at Evergreen on Wednesday, December 3. Father Talbot is the twentieth President of the College.

Bro. Barth Is New Building Superintendent

Brother Frederick E. Barth, S. J., Loyola's new Superintendent of Buildings, succeeding Bro. Lawrence J. Fitzpatrick, S. J., came to Evergreen from Georgetown University last February. At that time he had charge of buying for the Faculty House kitchen. He took over his present position in September, when his predecessor, Bro. Lawrence J. Fitzpatrick, S. J., was transferred to Woodstock College.

Originally a native of Philadelphia, Bro. Barth attended Roman Catholic High School, where he was a star fullback on the varsity football team. An active church member as well as an active athlete, he sang in the choir of Jesus Church in Philadelphia for six years. When he left school in 1934, Br. Barth was employed by Horn and Hardart. Later he worked as an apprentice plumber.

Joining the Society of Jesus in January, 1940, Br. Barth went to Wernersville for his noviceship. In June, 1945, he was sent to Georgetown, where he took charge of the campus and the athletic fields.

On the day that he was to leave for Loyola, Br. Barth had a very narrow escape. Having packed his clothes and personal effects, he left his room in the Mulledy Building and went to lunch. While he was eating, the Mulledy Building burned down. His room had been on the top floor.

As Superintendent of Buildings at Loyola, Br. Barth supervises building maintenance and boiler-room operation. He is also the sacristan of both chapels.

He was graduated Summa Cum Laude from Washington and Lee University where he received the Bachelor of Arts degree in History and English and was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity. The Johns Hopkins University awarded him a Doctor of Philosophy degree for his "Dissertation on Colonel William Fleming."

A member of the faculty of the Governor Dumner Academy and the Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Hoyt is the author of fifty-two articles and thirty-two book reviews in twenty-eight different journals. He is the editor of two local history journals and a member of a score of historical and professional organizations.

Three Top-flight Leaders Reorganize Their Bands

by Dick Coleman and Larry Davis

This week brings news that three top-flight bandleaders have reformed their bands. Woody Herman, you will recall, broke up his band about a year ago because of conflict among high-salaried Bill Harris, Flip Phillips, Dave Tough and Chubby Jackson. Now Woody is forming another band without his temperamental stars. Smart boy!

Larry Clinton, in this writer's opinion, will be welcomed back with open phonographs. Clinton pressed such memorable records as "Heart and Soul" and "My Reverie" with Bea Wain, back in 1940.

Stan Kenton's return brings tears of joy to mine eyes. Surprisingly, almost all of the old Kentonites have returned, except Vido Musso, Kai Winding and Eddie Myers. Musso is trying his hand at a band of his own, while Winding has joined the Charlie Ventura sextet. Happily, Eddie Safranski, the best bass man in the country, June Christie, his blonde chirper, and Ken Hanna, Baltimore arranger and third trumpet, have returned to the fold. Jack Costanza, a bongo man, has been added to the rhythm section. Christie sacrificed a hundred dollars per week to sing with Kenton. Persuasive man!

"Liberal Arts" By Fr. Wise Published

"The Nature of the Liberal Arts" by the Rev. John E. Wise, S.J., was published last week by Bruce Publishing Company. The book is a study of the nature of the liberal arts and why they are essential to the proper education and the full development of man.

Fr. Wise has been Dean of Loyola's Evening School since 1945 and at present he is also the chairman of the College and University Committee for the Baltimore Survey of Adult Education.

The author of the new study has also contributed articles to such publications as America, Thought, The Catholic Mind, Ecclesiastical Review, School and Society and the Educational Forum. The chapter on Cardinal Newman in his new book has been included in American Essays for the Newman Centennial.

Receiving his early education in his home city of Washington, D. C., Fr. Wise then went to Georgetown University for his A.B. He received his M.A. at Woodstock College and his Ph.D. from Fordham University.

After the Dance:

Hobbs, Hoopers, Old Court Inn Given Nod As Favorite Spots

The familiar after-dance chorus of "Where shall we go," is a routine most students are thoroughly acquainted with by the time they are old enough to switch to Calvert. Before the jalopy has gone three blocks the air is thick with suggestions, those from the front seat usually contradicted by those from the back, and vice-versa.

Glee Club to Give Christmas Recital

The Loyola Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Felice Iula, will present the traditional annual rendition of Christmas Carols on Sunday, December 14 at 4 p.m. Evergreen students, their parents and friends of Loyola are invited to attend the concert.

The Loyola Glee Club will also present a special program of carols in O'Neill's Department Store in downtown Baltimore during the Christmas season.

The Christmas program was instituted for the express purpose of carrying Loyola's influence into the holidays. The programs, held during the past few years, have always been extremely enjoyable.

Leonard Johnson is president of the Glee Club.

The GREYHOUND's Department of Hamburgers and Women, after scouting a number of restaurants and night clubs in the vicinity, offers the following suggestions to stumped students.

Leaving out the more obvious places, Brown's Dairy Cottage is recommended if there is just time for a hamburger and milkshake. The Cottage sets out the best of both. Curb and counter-service are available.

The Drumcastle, out on York Road on the way to Mary Fisher Hall, is nothing to stay awake over, but boasts moderate prices, good food, atmosphere and service.

Service is a little less efficient at the Old Court Inn, in Pikesville, but the quality of the food is better, as is the atmosphere.

Hobbs, located on the new Frederick Road, outside of town, rates high on all counts. Prices also are slightly higher, but just slightly. Excellent everything!

The Hot Shoppe, on Harford Road just past White Avenue, is another recommendation on a par with the Dairy Cottage, and the Drumcastle, although closer to town.

Hoopers, of course, is still high on the majority of preference lists. Very good food and proximity to town are the chief advantages. Prices are surprisingly reasonable. Located at Greenmount Avenue and 32nd Street.

All of the above close at two o'clock, except the Drumcastle and the Dairy Cottage, which close an hour earlier.

Student Council Votes To Enroll College In NSA

The Student Council, by a unanimous vote, enrolled Loyola College in the National Student Association on Thursday, November 6, at its weekly meeting.

NSA is divided into twenty-six geographical regions, each region having one or two representatives on the National Executive Committee.

Loyola College is now a member of the Delaware, Maryland and District of Columbia region which has its own constitution and elects its own officers.

Last Meeting At Hopkins

At the last regional meeting, which was held at Hopkins University on November 1, the constitution was read and ratified, and officers, who will preside for a period of one year, were re-elected.

Mr. Joseph Zebley, who is not affiliated with any particular college, was elected President; George Eustice of Howard College and Mary Katherine Ostmann of Dunbarton College were voted as Vice-President and Secretary respectively.

Program Presented On WARL

Georgetown University took the initiative in furthering regional publicity when it sponsored a radio round table discussion on "State Subsidies Of Education," Sunday, November 9, over station WARL in Washington, D. C. It was on this occasion that the ideas and attitudes of the NSA were first presented to the people of this section of the country.

Other Maryland colleges represented in this organization are Mount St. Agnes, Notre Dame of Maryland, Johns Hopkins University, Hood College and Goucher College. The next regional meeting will be held on December 6, at Howard College.

The Critilog

by George Herman

On the staff of every publication which devotes a minimum of two inches of dramatic criticism, there is bound to be some third-rate intellectual such as myself—and George Jean Nathan—who are incapable of following a plot unless it is clearly sketched out by the authors. That's why we both favor the musical revue.

The Celluloid City came closest to a musical revue with their Ziegfeld Follies, but never have they attempted to string the revue together with more than a simple cord. The type of revue like Three To Make Ready and Call Me Mister! have never been attempted on the screen, and it is a shame, for this medium would greatly enhance the song fest.

To prove my point, let's take simply one of the latest pictures—a little above average, I admit—This Time For Keeps with Esther Williams, Jimmy Durante and Johnny Johnston (who should be seen more often)—not to mention Lauritz Melchior and Dame May Whitty.

The top scene from the show is Snow Wonder They Fell In Love, which contributes nothing to the plot, but has a swell tune, good singing voices, and a terrific staging job.

This was what is known in revue circles as a sequence. Just a "staged song." And, of course, it stole the show.

Mascot

An irate alumnus telephoned us not long ago to complain that no real live Greyhound dog has been seen on the campus of Loyola since 1930. We wonder if, in the interests of school tradition and morale, this condition could not be remedied.

Navy has its goat, Army has its mule, and so on, but Loyola has no living double of its trademark. Admittedly there would be problems involved in such an enterprise. Whose department would receive this canine responsibility? Where would he live?

Anyway, it's a suggestion.

Prom

It certainly looked for a while there as if one of this college's established maxims would be "Proms always lose money." But man bit dog in the person of the recent prom and the Junior Class; a slight profit was even realized.

The formula used (early in the month, big band, off-campus, medium price) showed shrewd business sense. This piece, however, is a commendation not to a formula, but to the men who devised it and put it through and who would not otherwise receive specific recognition for the fine work they accomplished. Kudos, then, to Prommers Vincent Profili, Jack Enoch, Tom Padden, Spencer Davidson, James Norris, Jack Hohman and Richard Rebbert.

Alumni Retreat In December

Annual retreat for the Alumni Association will be held at Manresa on December 5, 6 and 7, it was announced by retreat chairman John Kernan. All alumni are invited and urged to attend.

Retreat master will be Rev. John J. Brady, S.J., assistant retreat director at Manresa.

Reservations for the affair are being accepted through the Alumni Office at Evergreen or through John J. Kernan, 3600 Callaway Avenue (LI 2880).

Frankly, you've got us. We take our showers at home; but if this condition is a fact in the gymnasium, let those in charge be warned.

Christmas Cards

The Christmas cards advertised on page three are put out by the Jesuit Mission Bureau, and all profits accruing from their sale will benefit the fund. We've seen the cards, and this is just to pass along the information that they are a good deal from more than one standpoint.

First of all, everybody buys Christmas cards and these are definitely of high quality, easy to obtain (from the bookstore or the Sodality), and decidedly inexpensive. Secondly, the mission benefit is well worth our charity, if it can be called charity to get good Christmas cards at a good price.

Letter From Germany

(Following are excerpts from a letter received by Edward Hart of the Senior class from a former German PW, who lives at present in the German U. S. zone. It reveals, to some extent at least, the German point of view on United States foreign policy.)

Dear Eddie:

Your letter of 20 Aug. arrived here yesterday, and I've enjoyed it ever so much . . .

I am . . . glad to hear that you have been having a swell time . . . Well, you think I am envying you . . . and that is true to a certain extent. I don't begrudge you the fun you are having . . . I'd only like to have a little . . . myself. But it's no darned good to feel sorry for oneself; it's . . . us who started the whole mess, not you . . .

You want . . . my opinion on the Marshall plan . . . It . . . is a . . . good idea. But . . . won't work . . . if . . . Germany is hampered by restrictions of the Potsdam agreement. We want to do our share in the reconstruction of Europe . . . but we . . . can't if our factories are dismantled and the rest of the plants are not allowed to operate . . . I do hope . . . the US and British won't wait for a four-power agreement on this plan, because there just won't be any . . . If the Marshall plan will not come in time, it might easily be too

by O. Wella Parsnips

Yours truly was over at Hobert Raylor's house for dinner the other evening. I particularly enjoyed myself as the result of a little argument which Hob and his wife had. She hit him on the head with the Oscar he won last season because he was kidding her about three of her former husbands.

In an exclusive interview with Lassie, I was the first to learn that she is expecting a few little lassitudes next summer some time. We are justly proud in scooping everyone on that.

David O. Helznik told me in strictest confidence last night that he is seriously considering the idea of teaming Margaret O'Brein and Lionel Barrymore in his new movie, "Ages Apart." He expects to release the news at Graumann's Chinese Theatre when the British Film Company holds a banquet for the Scandinavian Cinema Actors Benefit Guild.

My daughter has been given a screen test at the studios of my former husband. I don't like to brag, but she will undoubtedly be the rage of Hollywood in a few seasons. Don't say I didn't tell you.

RKX has been reported to have signed Russian-born Andrei Vishinski to play opposite Mae West in the new production entitled "He Wouldn't Say Yes." General gossip has it that they're offered as a bonus for signing a case of lend lease Uranium.

I ran into the Marvin Gates the other night. They tell me that they've been doing everything to avoid publicity about their fight with MGM. I think that they've chosen a very wise course. Publicity about those things does no one any good. Incidentally, they were kind enough to give me a twenty-four cylinder Cadillac for my birthday. Some people are so thoughtful.

Blonde Charlotte Wilkins, the former red headed singing star of the All-Brunette Orchestra, told me that she is the best looking actress in Hollywood today.

Books

by J. Scrimger

It is surprising to note that the book chosen by the Book of the Month Club for November is one translated from the French of the late Swiss writer, Charles F. Ramuz. Derbournce or When The Mountain Fell is sure to establish Ramuz's reputation here in America, where he is known only by such unheralded works as The End of All Men and The Triumph of Death.

A little quotation from an Old Atlas forms the basis for the story: "A shepherd, missing and presumed dead, spent several months buried in his cabin, living on bread and cheese . . ."

A peaceful village is asleep on a clear summer night when the mountain by the valley of Derbournce, where many of the mole inhabitants of the village had gone with their flocks, fell, killing presumably all. But Antioine, one of the villagers returns to his wife and family, only to go back to the valley in search of a lost comrade. His wife goes with him against the warnings of the superstitious Old Plon, the shepherd, and the whole village.

No matter how bold the plot, no matter how great the concept, the prose of When the Mountain Fell is charmingly simple and naive. It seems that Ramuz has used suggestions of his colloquial Swiss tongue. The conversation, in translation, is like something from Maeterlinck, an opera sung in plainchant.

It may be that this novel will not appeal commercially; but it is unusually easy to read and well worth the try.

Running With The Hounds

by Spence Davidson

This week leave us all take a conducted tour around the campus for a brief look at the various teams to see what they are doing, what they have done, or what they expect to do, which should cover just about every phase of activity. The first bouquet should be thrown at Franny Mueller for his work in the intramural circuit. In previous years this department, for sundry reasons, has limped badly, but Franny has revitalized the entire program. He ran three separate events this Fall, and all three finished without perishing by the wayside. Ben Spurrier took the tennis tournament, which was particularly well-run with Mueller inaugurating a system of priorities. This gave the certified contestants a chance at the courts without having to wait until someone eventually dropped dead of exhaustion. It's a good system and should be continued.

The Rompers captured the football crown by defeating the Chilton A. C. and in our humble opinion they deserved it. Frank Scrivener's boys were far and away the best team to take the field all season. The fact that the score of the final game was a close 49-6 shouldn't make Franny feel to embarrassed. Back in our bobby-sox days the same thing happened in a pro football playoff game between the Bears and the Redskins. Only that time the score was 72-0.

Despite periodic complaints from the players about the sad status of their eyesight, another bouquet should go to the referees—Bob Delisle, Walt Smyth, Charley Guemple and Tom Ostendorf. They did okay in what is certainly not an envious capacity.

The horseshoe tournament, an innovation this year, was also successfully completed. We were cheering for Tom Comber to come through with the title, but he just couldn't do it. Tom lost to Gerald King in the finals, 21-14, 21-19.

Bish Baker's soccer team had a very good season, posting a 6-3-1 record. Two of these losses were to opponents outside of the M-D conference and the third, which proved to be the best game of the year, went to Washington College, which went on to win the championship. The 3-2 score indicated what kind of a game it was. Not to be sour grapes, but with a little luck it could have easily gone the other way. That's how close a scrap it was.

It's a shame that more students didn't turn out to watch the booters play. Paced by Nick Kropfelder and the Linz brothers, plus other stalwarts like Jerry Dotterweich, Ellsworth Andrews, John Gants and Tommy Lind, they really played an enjoyable—from the spectator's viewpoint—brand of soccer. Most satisfying win was the 3-1 victory over Hopkins, last year's champs and our traditional you-know-whats.

Another bouquet, a really big one, should go to Bill McElroy, who took over this year as coach of the cross-country team. Not only does the guy have ability, but he also has real earnestness and sincerity. He also has George Brown to run for him, but that's neither here nor there.

It's sad that the cross-country team has to do all of its local running at Clifton Park. You can't seem to get many people to man the finish line and cheer the boys home when said line is about two miles from the College.

Not only did the harriers have some strong competition, but it seemed as though the weatherman was also against them. Most of the days they picked to run, he picked as a nice day in which to sprinkle nasty weather around. But that's the way it goes.

In closing this chapter we'd like to give a cluster of violets to Ji mNorris. In his capacity of manager of the team, he sliced enough oranges, rubbed on enough liniment, kept track of enough equipment, and did enough miscellaneous other things to merit a word of praise. He's also a friend of ours.

With the temperature slipping lower and lower and the leaves falling from the trees right into the outstretched hands of Mr. Provenza's biology class, attention is focused on the gym. Mr. Goodman is running his grapplers through their paces at the North end, Lefty has taken over the basketball court, and the billiard tables are also doing nicely, thank you.

The wrestling team is in much better shape this season than they were last year. In the first place, last year's green material has a season of experience behind them and in the second place some nice, new, shiny talent has been led to the slaughter.

Soccer

Baltimore U. Loses, 6-1

by Alan Harris

Displaying a fine passing attack the Greyhound soccer team defeated Baltimore University 6-1, on November 7. Played under damp and chilly weather conditions, the game was a league contest and kept the Loyola booters in second place close behind Washington College.

After twenty seconds had elapsed in the first quarter Nick Kropfelder narrowly missed a score on a spectacular shot from the left of the net. Loyola kept possession of the ball and halfway through the first period chalked up a score when Bill Linz eluded several opposing players and creased the net.

Dotterweich Scores

After Baltimore U. committed a foul by handling the ball, Bill Linz then made the penalty shot. Goalie John Gants made a brilliant save toward the close of the first period on a try by the visitors.

Culminating five minutes of working the ball toward payoff territory in the third quarter, Jerry Dotterweich then scored, giving the Greyhounds a 3-0 margin. Seconds later Tommy Lind stopped a possible score by the Bees when he booted the ball over his own goal.

Lind Makes Two

There was no more scoring for the remainder of the quarter, as both teams played on even terms for the first time in the game. The fourth quarter, however, was a different story.

Nick Kropfelder's hard boot was deflected by the goalie. After several players tried unsuccessfully to get at the ball, Harry Bullington converted it for another score.

Tommy Lind completed the top-heavy scoring by cashing in on the second of his two successive attempts at the net. Baltimore managed to score in this period to avoid a shutout.

Varsity Opens Cage Season Against Alumni Next Week

It's basketball time again, and Loyola's varsity club, 1947-48 version, swings into operation with the annual Alumni contest next Saturday evening in the Evergreen gym. Lefty Reitz has announced that admission will be free.

After four scrimmages with the pro Baltimore Bullets, plus more than a month of rigid practices, the team comes up to the curtain raiser in excellent condition.

Still Undecided

Reitz has yet to decide definitely on his final roster, and will use next week's skirmish as a yardstick to determine the ability of several of the players.

Starting jobs for the grads' game will most likely fall to the five men who opened against the Bullets in the final scrimmage with the Bullets. This quintet includes Jim Lacy, Mike Zedalis, Tom Gisriel, Andy O'Donnell and Wish Galvin.

Subs To See Action

Reitz plans to give his second and third teams ample opportunity to display their talent, since it will be the Hounds' last test before inauguration of league activity against Towson State Teachers' College on December 2.

Paul Feeley, Bob Barry, Bill Johnson, Bill Ferguson, Jim Bailey and a host of newcomers who have shown real promise are listed for extensive action.

Lacy, the one-man point production machine, is poised to add to his amazing scoring record. 667 points went through the cords as a result of Lacy's accuracy last year, and the 6' 2" forward is set to start all over again. With him at the forward posts is Zedalis, the flashy newcomer from Pennsylvania.

Roche To Play For Alumni

Sid Roche, regular on last year's varsity cage team, will play for the Alumni in the varsity-grad contest next Saturday night.

Other alumni who will see action are Carroll Feeley, Vic and Franny Bock, Barney Goldberg, George Bardelman, Al Barthleme, Gene O'Connor, Ed McGarry, Joe Heusman and Franny Mueller.

New Stands Raise Gym Capacity; 700 Student Books Distributed

As the date of the first basketball game of the season approaches, Coach Lefty Reitz has just about selected his squad, with only sixteen men remaining. However, the final cut has not been made.

An intensive practice is held daily from four until six o'clock, from which Lefty can get a true line on his material. The team is now working earnestly to polish up the tricky offensive and defensive systems which will be used during the coming season.

Lacy Heads List

Jim Lacy, who was the second highest scorer of the nation, last year, Andy O'Donnell, Wish Galvin, Tom Gisriel, and a promising freshman, Mike Zedalis, are a few of the brilliant players on the roster. Jim Bailey, Bob Johnson, Bill Ferguson, Paul Feeley and Bob Barry played on last year's team and have improved with experience.

Sal Cammarata and Bill Schanberger, Herb Meinert, Buford Zephir and Francis Barrett have showed plenty of skill this year.

No More Books

The first game of the season will be played against the Alumni on November 29. When the new stands now under construction behind the East basket are finished, the gymnasium will have a seating capacity of 1,700 persons.

The Athletic Office has announced that 700 season books have been issued to students. No more will be given out, since November 15 was the deadline for obtaining these books. With these books goes the privilege of purchasing an extra reserved seat in the student section adjacent to that obtained with the book. Prices for these extra tickets to home games are listed on the back cover of the student books.

Jim Lacy

Wrestling Team Opens Practice

The erection of the East end stands in the gym had held up the rolling out of the mat for the wrestling team for sometime, but the squad is now in full swing. Now that practice has started, there will be no let-up with the first match only a month away.

Bob Weise, in the 121 pound class, is showing much ability in the grappling business. Charlie Clifton, Navy veteran, and Joe Boulay, current soccer player, are looking good in the 128 pound class with Dan Shehan and F. X. Trainor giving them a hard fight.

Nip Funk and Jim Norris are grappling in the 136 pound class with Jack Enoch likely to enter the 36er's if he can lose weight. Enoch has been showing the way in the 145 pound class with Chuck Besche, John Mulvey, and Allan Harris right in there also.

Mus Bower, 155er and co-captain from last year, is again tops with Jerry Kuhn giving him a hard battle. The 165ers have John Mohler and Gordon Erberts from last year's squad fighting it out again this year. George Stevens, wrestler from City College and current cross country runner, and Bo Jordan are also giving Mohler and Erberts a tough fight.

Carter Beese, standout from last year's squad, and Ellwood Feldheim are showing ability in the 175 pound class. The heavies are Jeep Mueller, Mike Greene, Jug Judkins and Bob Rosner. There should be a 'battle royal' for this position.

Kropfelder Scores Four Goals As Hounds Blank Delaware

Sparkling the attack with four goals, Nick Kropfelder helped the Greyhound booters kick another conference game into their win column when they blanked the University of Delaware eleven, 5-0, last Monday at Loyola.

Loyola scored in every period. In the second frame Harry Bullington's marker supplemented Kropfelder's for a final total of five for Loyola.

While Nick was raising his season score to 11, Johnny Gantz performed impressively at the goalie post.

With four games won, one game lost, and one tied, Loyola ranks second in the Mason-Dixon Conference, which is lead by Washington College with five wins and no losses.

Cross - County Team Finishes Season; Prepares For Mason-Dixon Tournament

George Brown, captain and outstanding performer for the Greyhound cross-country team, failed to finish in first place for the first time in two years on November 8 as a strong team from St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia downed the Greyhound harriers, 15-40.

The visitors fielded a powerful team which completely outclassed the local thinclads. John Kelley, of the visitors' team, crossed the finish line first and marked up a new collegiate record for the Clifton Park circuit. He made the four miles in 21.46 minutes.

The Line-up

Zedalis Bears Watching In Coming Court Season

by Mickey Parr

(This is the fifth in a series of articles on outstanding Loyola athletes.)

If future immigrations keep pace with the past two Septembers, it would seem that Pennsylvania will develop into a major source of Loyola basketball talent.

A year ago, Lefty Reitz was pleasantly surprised with the unexpected acquisition (from Freeland, Pa.) of Andy O'Donnell, who matured into one of the mainstays of the Greyhound starting five. The pleasantness extended when Andy returned to school this Fall with one Michael Zedalis in tow.

Mike has quite a capable hardwood reputation behind him, and Loyola basketball scrimmages to date have shown the lad supporting this reputation with gusto. We're looking for important contributions during the 1947-48 season from this Keystone state redhead, so it's appropriate that the fans have an early looksee into his background.

A native of Freeland, he is 20 years old, stands 6'1", and weighs in at 178 pounds. Mike held down the center post for three years on Freeland High's varsity, and led the team in scoring during his junior and senior seasons.

Extraordinarily fast, especially on cutting under the basket, this new Greyhound member features one hand hook shots off the pivot, from either side. He is possessed of considerable drive and all-around ball handling ability, a welcome forte.

When he returned from the Army, Mike advanced to semi-pro ranks with the Freeland YMCA team. During the 1945-46 campaign this outfit racked up a 30 and 4 won-lost record, tops in their area. Mike was captain and high scorer. Incidentally, Andy O'Donnell was a member of this same quintet.

to finish in the first ten placers as the Philadelphia outfit set a torrid pace. However, Jim Kaufman, John Paszek, Jerry Kimmitt and Ray Lelli crossed the line for the Hound runners. The St. Joe team, one of the most powerful in the East, has already trounced three other teams in the Philadelphia area.

Catholic U.

Running in extremely inclement weather, Loyola's hill-and-dalers lost to Catholic University last Saturday. The score of the race, run over the home team's circuit in Washington, was 15-27.

nia. Although not too tall, Zedalis possesses a deadly eye, a tricky floor game and good defensive ability.

Gisriel, at center, bolsters the rebound department as well as aiding in the scoring parade. Big improvement has been noticed in his play so far this year, supplementing his set shot with a hook off the pivot.

The guard slots are in good hands, with O'Donnell and Galvin, regulars last year, set to continue. Both were high in individual scoring last year, both being particularly adept at set shots.

The results:

2. Brown, Loyola
3. Arnold, Catholic U.
4. Paszek, Loyola
5. Donoghue, Catholic U.

Johns Hopkins

George Brown, captain of the Greyhound cross-country team, resumed his winning ways against Hopkins last Tuesday. Although Loyola lost in team score 25-34, Brown crossed the finish line thirty-five seconds ahead of Jim Troxel, outstanding Jay runner.

John Paszek was the next Loyola runner to finish, crossing the line in third place eighteen seconds beyond Troxel. The first ten men to finish were:

1. Brown, Loyola
2. Troxel, Hopkins
3. Paszek, Loyola
4. Grim, Hopkins
5. Portmess, Hopkins
6. Powell, Hopkins
7. Kaufman, Loyola
8. Samet, Hopkins

Wish Galvin

Expected to answer the starting whistle when the varsity basketball team takes on the Alumni next Saturday night are the five men pictured on this page. Lacy, Galvin, Gisriel and O'Donnell were regulars on the champ team last year. Zedalis, a newcomer from Pennsylvania, has shown great promise.

Mueller Faces Problem Of RebuildingSwimming Team

by Gene Corrigan

The first swimming practice for this year's Greyhound tank team was called for Monday, November 10, by Coach Franny Mueller. This is Mueller's first season as mentor of the swimmers, and he faces a difficult job of rebuilding, since several of last season's stars were lost via the graduation route.

Several men who performed for the team last year have returned. Among them are Manley Gately and Jim Oaster, who perform in the freestyle sprint events; Jack Blondell and Franny Locke, distance swimmers; breaststroker Gerald Brandon; and John Gehring, backstroke and freestyle artist.

Newcomers Out

Approximately twenty promising newcomers have reported for practice sessions. Among them are Bill Klauer, Tom Mascell and Jim Fisher, who will perform in the breaststroke, backstroke and freestyle events respectively. Diving represents the main problem for Mueller, since Joe Lally is the sole returning diver.

Class of '47 Leads Bowlers

Going into its second round of play, Loyola's Alumni Bowling League is being paced by the Class of '47 which has taken over the initial place with a comfortable eleven point margin. The October Class of '43, formerly masters of the loop, have dropped into the number two spot.

E. McGraw, January '43B, has rolled himself to the top bracket in the high individual single game with 147, closely followed by G. Mueller, '47, 143, and H. Zerhusen, '47, 139. Honors for the high individual three games are divided two ways with C. Bitterli, October '43 and Henry Zerhusen, '47, running neck and neck with 348, and F. Cummings, '35, and Mueller, '47, tied at 346.

The three highest averages in the league are held by Mueller, W. Talbott, October '43, and N. Brady, January '43B, who possess 106.67, 104.78 and 103.73 respectively. In order to keep the teams on an equal basis, a handicap system per game has been put into effect.

Standings

Class of '35	13	11
Class of '39	9	15
Class of January '43A	8	16
Class of '44-'45	0	24

The above are the latest standings in the league as of and including Thursday evening, November 13.

Soccer Team Has 6-3-1 Mark

Six wins, three defeats, one tie. That's the record of the 1947 Loyola soccer team.

Under coach Bish Baker, the Hounds showed marked improvement toward the close of the season, when they won the last four Baltimore, Hopkins and Towson games on the schedule. Delaware, State Teachers, all Mason-Dixon schools, dropped contests to Loyola in this streak. The Greyhounds also defeated Western Maryland and North Carolina.

Losses were inflicted by Westchester Teachers, Rider and Washington College. The tie game was with Maryland.

Paul Menton, commissioner of the M-D Conference, has announced that Washington officially won the league championship.

Lacy Receives Cage Award

Voted the outstanding collegiate basketball player in the Mason-Dixon Conference last year, Jim Lacy was presented with an award by the Baltimore Bullets' management prior to a pro game between the Bullets and Boston Celtics last Thursday night.

Lacy scored 667 points to rank first in the conference and Maryland, and second throughout the country. He broke his own individual scoring record for one game when he zipped 37 points through the cords against Mt. St. Mary's.

The 6' 2" dark-haired forward has two full years of basketball left before he is graduated in July, 1949.

Ben Spurrier Wins Tennis Tournament; Rompers Down Chilton, 49-6, To Take Football Crown

by Gene Conroy

Ben Spurrier

The Intramural Tennis Championship Crown was awarded to Ben Spurrier, as the final match in the Fall Tennis Series was written into the sports records. Spurrier earned the title as a result of his 7-5, 6-4 victory over Alvin Hammond in the final round of the tournament.

The champ entered the deciding contest after taking two out of three sets from Tom McDermott in the semi-finals. The score was 6-1, 3-6 and 6-3. Hammond moved to the finals after a default by Ed Ward.

The tournament, which this year drew the largest number of entries since its inauguration as one of the school's sports events, was considered to have been a complete success. This resulted from the fact that the competition, which was close throughout the series, held the players' interest at all times.

Football

The title game of the Intramural Football League saw the Rompers live up to their name as they romped to an easy 49 to 6 victory over Chilton.

The Chiltons scored first, and held a six point lead until midway in the second quarter. It was at this point in the game that the Rompers began to roll. They scored two touchdowns, which allowed them to hold a 12 to 6 lead at half-time.

The game was broken wide open in the second half, as the victors accounted for thirty-one points in the space of eight minutes. Assured that the game was on ice, Captain Frank Scrivener called for a series of razzle-dazzle plays, which resulted in several trips to pay-dirt. Interceptions by the alert champs set up several scoring opportunities, that eventually resulted in touchdowns.

A previous game between these two teams resulted in a Romper victory by the score of 24 to 14. The Rompers had the unique honor of scoring the first and last points in league play.

Hounds Conquer Hopkins In 3-2 Soccer Contest

by Vince Profili

The Greyhounds of Loyola defeated their traditional rivals of Charles Street, The Hopkins Blue Jays, in a Mason-Dixon soccer game 3 to 1. The game, played at Homewood under the handicaps of a muddy field and brisk wind, was spirited.

The first minutes of the opening quarter found both teams cautious and feeling out each other. But at 3:15, Nick Kropfelder broke the ice to give Loyola a lead that was never threatened. The remainder of the quarter found each team trying to penetrate the other's defense, with Loyola moving deeper. This dominant Loyola play continued until Jerry Doterweich, scrappy attackman, slipped one by the frustrated Hopkins goalie for a 2-0 lead which they held at the half time.

Kropfelder Hurt

Loyola rooters were given a scare, in the closing minutes of the quarter when Kropfelder was shaken up by a collision at mid-field, but fortunately it was not serious and he continued in the game.

The second half opened with a sudden Hopkins thrust which was brilliantly staved off by Jerry Gants, Loyola goalie, who made an excellent save.

Loyola again held the upper hand, time after time coming within range of the Hopkins goal. The muddy field, however, which caused many slips during the afternoon, hampered the Hound booters more.

Late in the third quarter Kropfelder came through again, and getting a loose ball, soloed to his second goal of the game. This made the score 3-0, practically clinching the contest.

Hopkins Scores

But Hopkins, not to be denied, immediately after this goal gathered its strength for a last desperate attempt to avoid a shutout. The Jays after being repulsed twice, finally edged one past the goalie for the only Hopkins score.

The fourth quarter found the old rivalry between the Jays and Hounds intensified by claims of stalling from the Hopkins rooters. These jeers brought forth active play by both teams.

Linz Gets Free Shot

Early in this period, Bill Linz received a free shot for shoving, but his shot went slightly off the goal post, bouncing offside. This was the first such shot missed by Bill this season.

The Linz brothers and Kropfelder played their usual excellent game; in addition, those outstanding on the field were: Jerry Gants, who made many brilliant saves, Ellsworth Andrews, Duke Kerr and Tommy Lind.

This victory over last season's Mason-Dixon Conference victors was a defeat Loyola's squad accomplished with the form and style of a well-coached team.

Traits Of Ideal Mate Listed In Student Poll

The typical Loyola student's date, according to a recent GREYHOUND Poll on the subject, is intelligent, kind, sweet, even-tempered, beautiful, 36-22-36, agreeable, cooperative, friendly, courteous, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

In answer to a questionnaire asking the students to name the qualities they would like to have in the girl they married, a collection of virtues was listed that would do justice to a Notre Dame girl. Opinion varied slightly, but the majority seemed to agree on both the quantity and quality of the characteristics they expected of their future wife.

In order of votes cast, these qualities were named by students: (1) Intelligence; (2) Morally good; (3) Even-tempered; (4) Sense of humor; (5) Physically attractive; (6) In love with the student; (7) Able to hold intelligent conversations; (8) Understanding.

Most students were definite in the subject of physical characteristics, with rather specific ideas as to the color of hair and eyes, height, weight, and other measurements. One student listed as his ideal "a kind, innocent girl with blue eyes and blonde hair." But, he added, "I go with a brutal, sophisticated brunette with brown eyes."

Beauty, many added, was not too important, "but it helps." "Ability to handle me" was listed as an essential quality by one student.

Several added "if such exists" after listing the characteristics they wanted in their future mates. The incidence of such remarks increased as the age and experience of the pollers advanced from freshman to senior.

The Rev. Stephen McNamee, S. J., former Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Georgetown, will speak on the "Moral Obligation in the Light of Ethics" in the fourth in his series of Medical Ethics on Thursday, December 4. Father McNamee taught Theology at Woodstock College and the Gregorian University in Rome.

S.C. Considers Caf Prices, Athletic Fund

An investigation of conditions in the College Cafeteria was the main business conducted by the Student Council in the past two weeks. A committee headed by James F. O'Neill and including Austin Byrd, Thomas Daniels, Thomas Sweeney and Charles Wittstadt was named at the meeting of November 6, to confer with the manager of the Cafeteria.

Conclusions of the committee reported at the monthly open meeting on November 14 revealed that a reduction in the price of milk had been obtained and the manager, a representative of the Slater System of Philadelphia, had agreed to increase the size of servings. It was also announced that a deficit of $200 was sustained by the College during the month of October.

Other matters brought up in the Student Council during the early part of the month included the consideration of a fund for injured athletes. A committee composed of Robert Sweeney, Paul Feeley and Edward Barrett presented its report to the Council at yesterday's session.

At the same meeting the Council considered the matter of a loan of $60 to aid in the inauguration of a Rifle Club at Loyola.

Classics Club Plans Schedule

At a recent meeting of the Classics Club, which was revived this year, David K. McManus and Daniel L. Mackey were elected president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

At the same meeting, a schedule for the year was set, with a weekly lecture by one of the members, a spot lecture of approximately five minutes in length, and a criticism by the moderator, Mr. John G. Walsh.

This society differs from the original Classics Academy both in its membership regulations and its subjects of study. It invites all students to be members and studies all antiquity—the old society was composed only of honor students and was restricted to the study of the Latin Classics.

Favors Presented At Junior Prom

Jack Enoch, president of the Junior Class, and Prom Queen Mary Cronin, present favors to those participating in the promenade. The traditional dance was held early this month in the main ballroom of the Lord Baltimore Hotel. Approximately three hundred couples attended and danced to the music of Randy Brooks and his orchestra.

The prom, sponsored by the class of July, 1948, was a financial success.

NFCCS Sponsors Student Relief And Anti-Communist Program

(Following are quotes from an interview with James Bailey, Loyola's senior delegate to the National Federation of Catholic College Students.)

Before we can begin to discuss the present programs of the NFCCS, it is important that every Catholic student at Loyola understand the general purposes of the organization.

The primary end of the NFCCS is to unite Catholic college students throughout America and destroy once and for all their spirit of isolationism. One recent success of the Federation was its large representation at the recent NSA conference at Madison.

Of what interest is such an organization to Loyola? It is high time that we shook off the lethargy we have maintained thus far. Catholic action on a national scale is important, and it is important that we support it; that we take part in leading Catholic student affairs.

At the present time the NFCCS is conducting a National Campaign to raise funds for World Student Relief. The Eastern Region, of which Loyola is a member, will conduct a benefit to support this fund beginning in a few weeks.

A second program of the organization is the formation of a united front against Communism; a front furthered by greater devotion to the Five First Saturdays and a consecration of the world to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

These are by no means the complete roster of NFCCS projects. Others will be publicized through THE GREYHOUND and the bulletin boards as they are brought to the fore. Support them; only in this manner can the voice of Catholic college action be effectively heard on the national scene.

Work Begins On Parking Lot

A parking lot with a capacity of fifty student vehicles is now under construction at the west end of the Dell. The area is scheduled to be ready for use in approximately two weeks, but the actual surfacing will not be completed until sometime in the Spring.

Construction is being done by the Valley Landscaping Company which erected the Dell Building. The ground is being cleared and leveled and a few trees in the area are being removed. Cost of the project has been estimated at $1700.

One-Half Drive

Some solution to the campus parking problem was made imperative this term due to an increase in the number of students driving to school. A recent survey disclosed that over 50% of students come to class by car every day.

The present site was chosen because of its proximity to the Science Building where the majority of students have lockers. A committee of the Student Council appointed to look into the parking problem had previously declared the use of several other locations including one off-campus site inadvisable at the present time.

To Aid Game Parking

At present, during class hours, cars of Loyola students occupy both sides of Cold Spring Lane, Millbrook Road and one side of all roads on the campus.

The new lot will do much to relieve the parking situation during this season's basketball games. The Athletic Department anticipates record-breaking crowds this season.
